Let's Start!

Let's travel the world! That's a good idea!

Learning Outcome

Accurately explain information about interests, hobbies and preferences in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can make and respond to requests.
- I can talk about travel.
- I can show interest and surprise.

Ask your partner:

- What would you do if you won the lottery?
- Would you prefer to buy a house or travel the world? Why?

Let's Explore!

Vanessa and Sally are at the park for some girl talk. What does Vanessa ask Sally?

* "Girl talk" is conversation between women, usually uninteresting to men.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: So, I heard you won the lottery!
Sally: I did! I can't believe it!
Vanessa: What are you doing with the money?
Sally: I'm going to travel the world!
Vanessa: That sounds awesome.
Sally: Yeah. I'd love to blog about traveling.
Vanessa: Yeah, you're a good writer! That's a good idea!
Sally: Could you help me think of a new name for the blog?
Vanessa: I'd love to. How about "Sally's Suitcase"?
Sally: I love it! What are you doing in Mexico, by the way?
Vanessa: I'm going to the beach ... sun, sand and surf!
Sally: Sounds great.
Vanessa: Oh, can you look after my cat when I'm away?
Sally: Ninja? Sure. No problem.
Vanessa: Thanks, you're the best.

Let's Practice!

By the way*, can you fill in the blanks?

*"By the way" is an expression you can use to change the subject of conversation.

Instructions: Use the words from the Word Bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Vanessa: So, I heard you won the lottery!

Sally: I did! I can't _____ it! I'm going to travel the world!

Vanessa: That _____ awesome.

Sally: What are you doing in Mexico, _____?

Vanessa: I'm going to the beach ... sun, sand and surf!

Sally: Sounds _____.

Learning Points

Making and Responding to Requests

You can use modals such as could or would to make and respond to requests. Look at the examples of making and responding to requests:

Making a Request	Responding to a Request
Could you ...? Can you ...? Would you mind ...?	Sure. No problem. I'd love to. Yes, no problem. Sorry, I can't. I'm sorry, I can't.

Examples:

• Vanessa: Could you look after my cat when I'm away?

Sally: Sure. No problem.

• Peter: Could I borrow your phone?

Jenny: Yes, no problem!
